

What is St. Junia's House?

We operate as a small house church and retreat center. You may be aware that in the first two hundred years of the faith, the earliest Christians also met in homes. We have a dedicated chapel here, and we pray the Mass every week. Our liturgy is inclusive and participatory. People who have found safe harbor here include our neighbors on this street. Also, estranged Roman Catholics have come here who, perhaps because of divorce and remarriage or other conflicts with personal conscience, were deprived of the Sacraments. Other people have been drawn to a sacramental path and to St. Junia's who have come out of a fundamentalist or evangelical background. Lectio divina and experience of interpretive community has enlarged their understanding of scripture.

Students from local colleges or universities have found their way to St. Junia's House. You are welcome to contact me and come over for conversation over coffee, lunch or dinner and to explore whether St. Junia's may be of help to you. Or, come on Sunday morning! (See schedule)

As part of St. Junia's House biblical studies, from time to time we host half-day retreats for a small group. We are also able to host overnight retreats, either guided or private, for one person or a couple for up to two days and two nights. Longer stays are possible for clergy and their spouses who are traveling into the Orange County area and need a place to stay.

Contact Information: Reverend Martha-Junia+ (otherwise known as "M-J+") may be reached by email or by phone. 714-606-4365 or Rogersmartha@sbcglobal.net. For security reasons, we do not publish the physical address, but will make it available to those who plan to visit.
